

AUTHOR

Naoki Akiyama

Born in 1949. Infected with Beatlemania in the spring of 1964, when the band hit it big in Japan with I WANT TO HOLD YOUR HAND.

Earned a BA in Hispanic studies (with minor in international relations) from Sophia University, Tokyo, in 1973. Completed a course in intermediate French at Athenée Francais, Tokyo, in 1981.

Engaged in international services in Japan and the USA from 1973 to 2003. Occupied as a language translator since 2003 (mainly from Japanese to English in the fields of business and machinery).

He has written a large number of books in Japanese, including twelve on The Beatles whose titles translate to:

Guide to Reading and Comprehending The Beatles' English

Guide to Reading and Comprehending Works of The Beatles

Guide to Reading and Comprehending Solo Beatles' Works (volumes 1-6)

The Beatles' English-Japanese Dictionary

Guide to The Beatles' English Grammar

Guide to The Beatles' English Pronunciation

Following The Beatles in Real Time